Printed silk sarees are a popular garment in India favoured by the rich and poor alike. Printed silk sarees that have fewer embellishments and rely more on the pattern and quality of material are favoured by working women because they are light in weight and easy to wear. These are daily use garments that are worn by women at home and in the office. More extravagantly detailed Saris in terms of designs and embellishments are usually occasion wear.

A woman with dark hair styled in an updo is wearing an orange saree with a wide, ornate border featuring a floral pattern in shades of pink, red, and yellow. She is also wearing a matching orange blouse with a gold border. Her accessories include a large, ornate necklace with a red and white pendant, a red and white beaded bracelet, and a large gold ring. She is standing against a dark, textured background with some dried branches visible on the left. The floor is a dark, reflective surface.
