"What you wear is how you present yourself to the world. Invest in it well, when luxury clothes are around, it makes sense to buy them."

There was what is often recognized as a shift in the credit supply curve, which was more credit available to small business in the 1990s.

NEW TREND

"What you wear is how you present yourself to the world especially when other people's reactions are so quick, I believe is human language."
